Report on one day seminar Research Method Selection and Challenges in Journal Selection

Event Details

Date: July 4, 2018

Location: Y S N M College, Medininagar

Resource Persons:

- Dr. VibhaPandey, Department of Botany, Y S N M College, Medininagar
- Dr. SupriyaSonalika, Department of Political Science, Y S N M College, Medininagar

On July 4, 2018, Y S N M College hosted a seminar featuring Dr. VibhaPandey and Dr. SupriyaSonalika as resource persons. The seminar focused on the selection of appropriate research methods and the challenges encountered in selecting suitable journals for publication.

Research Method Selection

1. Understanding Research Objectives:
 - Dr. VibhaPandey emphasized the importance of aligning research methods with research objectives. For instance, botanical studies often require empirical methods, including fieldwork and laboratory experiments.
2. Qualitative vs. Quantitative Methods:
 - Dr. SupriyaSonalika highlighted the significance of choosing between qualitative and quantitative research methods based on the nature of the study. In political science, qualitative methods such as interviews and case studies can provide deep insights, whereas quantitative methods, including surveys and statistical analysis, offer measurable data.
3. Mixed-Methods Approach:
 - Both speakers acknowledged the growing trend of using mixed-methods approaches, combining qualitative and quantitative techniques to provide comprehensive research outcomes.
4. Tools and Techniques:
 - Dr. Pandey discussed various tools and techniques specific to botanical research, such as plant tissue culture and molecular analysis. Dr. Sonalika shared insights on political science tools, including content analysis and public opinion polls.

Challenges in Journal Selection

1. Relevance and Scope:
 - Dr. Pandey emphasized the necessity of selecting journals that align with the research scope and objectives. For botanical research, this might mean targeting journals with a strong focus on plant sciences.

2. Journal Impact Factor:

- o Both resource persons discussed the importance of the journal impact factor as an indicator of the journal's reputation and the potential reach of the published research.

Workshop Report: The Basics of Intellectual Property Rights

Introduction

A one-day workshop titled "The Basics of Intellectual Property Rights" was held on at YSNM College. The workshop aimed to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of the different types of intellectual property (IP), including patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets. It also emphasized the importance of IP in protecting innovation and creativity. The event was attended by faculty members, office staff along with students.

Objectives

The primary objectives of the workshop were to:

1. Educate participants on the fundamentals of intellectual property rights.
2. Provide an overview of the different types of IP and their specific characteristics.
3. Highlight the significance of IP in fostering innovation and protecting creative works.
4. Offer practical insights into the application and management of IP in various fields.

Workshop Agenda

The workshop was structured into four main sessions, each focusing on a specific type of intellectual property:

Session 1: Introduction to Intellectual Property Rights

Speaker: Advocate Husain Waris

- Definition and scope of intellectual property
- Historical development of IP laws
- The role of IP in modern economies
- Overview of the different types of IP: patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets

Session 2: Trademarks and Copyrights

Trademarks:

- Definition and types of trademarks (word marks, logos, slogans, etc.)
- Trademark registration process and requirements
- Importance of trademarks in brand management and protection
- Examples of well-known trademarks and trademark disputes

Copyrights:

- Definition and scope of copyrights
- Works protected under copyright law
- Duration and enforcement of copyrights
- The role of copyrights in the digital age
- Case studies of copyright infringement and protection

Interactive Sessions and Q&A

Each session was followed by an interactive discussion where participants asked questions and share their views. The speakers addressed various queries related to the practical aspects of IP protection, the challenges faced in enforcing IP rights, and the future trends in the field of IP.

Conclusion

The workshop successfully achieved its objectives by providing a thorough understanding of the basics of intellectual property rights. Participants gained valuable insights into the various types of IP and their importance in protecting innovation and creativity. The interactive nature of the sessions and the expertise of the speakers ensured a highly engaging and informative experience for all attendees.
